

FDA LAUNCHES NEW

DIETARY SUPPLEMENT AND FOOD LABELING

ELECTRONIC NEWSLETTER

“FDA-DSFL”

The Office of Nutritional Products, Labeling, and Dietary Supplements, located in the Center for Food Safety and Applied Nutrition, FDA, wishes to announce its new electronic newsletter, "FDA-DSFL" (Dietary Supplement/Food Labeling Electronic Newsletter), which will publish on a quarterly basis, or as needed. The goal is to provide interested parties with access to key information and updates about regulatory actions related to food labeling, nutrition, and dietary supplements, as well as educational materials and important announcements.

We expect to publish the first edition of this newsletter in late July or early August and include current issues and actions. If you are interested in subscribing to the newsletter FDA-DSFL, you will need to access the Electronic Information Networks on the Internet and follow the instructions at <http://www.cfsan.fda.gov/~dms/infonet.html>.

NOTE: If you subscribe after the first newsletter has issued, you can request any past issue, by going to the same Web site.

Because this newsletter may be of interest to many other organizations and individuals you know and work with, we would appreciate your sharing this announcement with them.
